Mr. Harold Weisberg
Hyattstown, Md. 20734

Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Mr. Elefante has passed your letter of July 20 along to me. As a rule, mostly because we are limited in space, we do not list privately printed books.

About who was first, what I said in my review of "Inquest" was: "it is probably fair to say that 'Inquest' is the first book to throw open to serious question, in the minds of thinking people, the findings of the Warren Commission." This does not say that "Inquest" is the first book on the subject, which, of course, it is not.

Sincerely,
Eliot Fremont-Smith
